RWC Sounding Board

I will definitely be attending future Sounding Boards, and I am grateful that there is an organization out there like you all providing this invaluable guidance and insight.

It was interesting to hear about how other affiliates go about solving the same challenges and tasks I face. I also appreciate the support others (in similar positions as mine) have offered to myself.

I found the questions very thoughtful and intentional.

It gives me space to come up with concrete ideas for things I need to do or prioritize in my work.
